ABS System Repair—You Can Do It!

While some ABS systems can be complex, you don't need to be an engineer to fix ABS problems. Most ABS failures are due to contaminated fluid or basic brake problems. If you have the tools and experience to service today's brake systems you too can service ABS equipped vehicles!

Let CARDONE Industries help you meet your customers ABS needs. Our line of remanufactured ABS components feature the following:

- Over 700 total ABS part numbers including Electronic Modules, Hydraulic Control Units, Pumps and Motors
- Coverage for over 18 million vehicles from 1978 to 1999.
- Remanufactured to ISO 9001:2000 and ISO/TS16949 standards in a clean room environment.
- Computer tested for internal and external leakage and performance.

Let CARDONE's ABS program help you service your customers' needs!
Don't let another ABS job pass you by!
